CHICAGO, May 16.-Wheat wound up firm and 1/2 cent higher today after a new low price record. Weak cables and fair selling caused the opening easy feeling and reports of hot winds in the west, and the possibility of a cold wave were responsible for the later firmness. Corn closed 1/8 cent lower, July oats 1/2 cent nigher and provisions were little changed.

In wheat there was rather free selling at the start. Favorable crop news, with the exception of Nebraska and California, and

LIVE STOCK MARKETS.

Chicago, May 16.—Today's cattle mar-ket was not comforting to sellers. Not only was it discouragingly dull, but it was weak to a degree. Eighteen thousand cattle is too big a supply for these times, as country shippers were made aware to-day, for they had to submit to a decline ryring from 5 to 10 cents per 100 pounds.

There were lots of good to prime beavy rattle here and that class especially sold bad. But even the fat, sleek 1,000 to 1,250 pound steers that have been selling so satisfactorily of late could not be moved satisfactority of late could not be moved at former prices. The only description for which the market was not profoundly weak, was choice cows and sold pearly as well as before. From $3.5004 bought the bulk of the dressed beef and shipping steers and $2.75 cc. 40 were the prevailing prices for common to choice cows and beffers. Stockers and feeders are in fair request and constitutions.

and feeders are in fair request and con-tinue to sell high as compared with bestes. The calf market was steady. Good hogs were bought at $4.95655 and the cream of the offerings at $5.05 at any time after 3 o'clock. At the close 85 was regarded as the tep price, though there were scattering sales early in the day at 85 10@5 12%. The increased receipts, the depression in the board of trade markets depression in the board of trade markets and the hot weather were all weakening fratares and sufficiently account for the reduction of 15 cents that sellers were obliged to submit to. Trade was full at the opening and was even more intensely so later in the forenoon. Some of the packers were cut of the market entirely and the few who were at work acted as though they wished they were not in it. Sales were reported all the way from $S$@4.50 for culls to $5.10@5.12½ for extra quality. Only a small part of the supply soid above $5, and toward the close it took a pretty good article to bring $4.90.

cle to bring $4.10), The sheep market was firm. It was not by any means active, but the moderate arrivals for the last few dayt gave sellers a little the best of the situation. Prices ranged from $2 to $4.50 for poor to choice storn. Would sheep were not wanted at any important advance on these prices. Sales of yearings were on a basis of $3.50-@5 and springs were quoted at $4@6.50. Receipts—Cattle 18,000; calves 500; hogs 25,000; sheep 13,000.

OMABA, May 16.—Cattle Receipts 2,000; the market was active and steady; the demand was good from all sources and the movement free throughout. Tidy light beeves were in the best request, but the heavier grades where they were good went readily at full firm figures. Cow went readily at full firm figures. Cow stuff was in meagre supply and firm and there was a fair degree of activity in stockers and feeders at all of yester-

ome of the Many Varieties and Theh Significance — The Cleanly Shaven Upper Lip Is Open to Sus-

Mustaches have moral characters, co the contrary, just as it may happen, and when intelligently studied and classified serve as pretty correct indices to the temperaments of the persons they are intended to adorn, says the Chicago Tribune. The nice, trim and well-behaved mustache signifies that its owner has no striking traits of character. He is neither any better nor any worse than anyone else. The smooth manner in which the hairs of even length lie alongside each other signifies an even temperament and an average disposition. Such a man will not love or hate desperately. He is in life what the middle "c" is in music. He will be fairly successful in all he undertakes, but he will never undertake anything extraordinary. He will never write a grand epic poem nor or-ganize an expedition to discover the degree, others of the active shares. The north pole. He is what may be termed it lots better than many others do the truth. It may be remarked, however, that all the rules governing this type of mustache have numerous exceptions. The long, drooping mustache that looks as if it had lost its sustaining force suggests a withered flower that is bowed down because of a drought. Such a mustache appears always to be thirsty, and the chances are that it is. A mustache of that kind, as a fule, never thrives except it is well irrigated. If it droops, and is, besides, a bright sandy or old gold color, it will absorb more moisture than a section of the Sahara. If you don't believe it ask it un to the bar some time. Such a mustache is an expensive one for its owner to keep in a flourishing condition. Many men have seen their fortunes swallowed up, or, rather, down, in an effort to keep the roots of such a mustache well watered. The man who has sufficient will variety, and many men have, deserves to be elected president of a temperance power to overcome a mustache of that society. But he will always have to New York May 16.—Money on call easy at 1 per cent, last loan 1 per cent, closed 1 per cent. The "frowsy" mustache that looks live down the suspicion his mustache

The "frowsy" mustache that looks quite like a small portion of a hair mattress is the hardest to get acquainted with. Its owner may, or may not, be all you could wish. He may become poetical, or musical, or literary if he takes a notion, or he may butche is not so practical as be is romantic and lazy. His thoughts and purposes, like the hairs of his mustache, are tangled and uncertain. He is not quite sure whether he wants to preach, or study law, or farm, or keep a temperance billiard hall in a prohibition state, or become a clown in a circus. He is in no particular hurry about doing anything. He marries young, and is quite sure to love his wife, because he is so constituted that he can love anyone, without any great amount of strain upon his affections.

He is a pleasant man to go on a long racation trip with. He is happy as long as his money bolds out, and when his money is gone, he would just as soon spend a friend's. Many great men whose names adorn the pages of history had mustaches of this sort, and be called the society of Ward McAllister variety.

There are men who always keep their upper lip cleanly shaven. These men know that the mustache is a very tenthful index to character and they should be watched.

LAPAZ, The Tailor, Over 120 East Douglas.

I cannot make a suit for everyone, as I do all my own work; being a practical tailor for many years; yet I would like a few more customers to make suits for. While my prices are low that is no indication of inferior work-manship and materials. My location is an indication of light expenses, which I give you the benefit of. I also do cleaning and repairing.
